And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

Last week we skipped any comments on the state of affairs in Austin because we thought that surely by the time the paper was out they would have come to grips with the problem and passed a tax bill. But they didn't and we are not sure that things will be any different this week.

Unless Governor Preston Smith begins to show more strong leadership than he has up to this point, we suspect that we are in for a long, bad session in Austin. So far he seems to rather wait until the damage is done before he does much to try to help matters.

First, he waited until the regular session was over and a one year appropriation bill passed before he informed anyone that he would not accept it; and then he waits until after the first special was over before he tried to get tough with the lawmakers.

Because of this lack of leadership on his part and his apparent lack of strength in Austin, we find Lt. Gov. Barnes, House Speaker Mutschers, and the Governor all trying to come out on top in the fight for leadership. And the bad thing is that all three seem to be losing the respect of the average Texan who has had about all the wrangling in Austin that he wants.

On the surface the differences between the two houses seem to be whether to tax business or people and whether to add beer and liquor to the sales tax. However, there may be more to it than this.

We would prefer to see most of the new taxes placed on a broad base as is the case with a sales tax and we really can see no justifiable reason to exempt beer and liquor even though they already carry a tax. If cigarettes can be taxed an additional five cents, then why leave out beer and liquor?

And while we are on the subject of legislative inaction, we might mention the fact that Jones County Commissioners are still ignoring the court order to re-district commissioner precincts.

The U. S. Supreme Court, upon hearing an appeal from Midland, Texas, ruled that the one-man, one-vote concept must be carried on down through the various branches of government to the county commissioner precincts. It appears that this ruling must be complied with before filing deadline for offices next year.

This does not give the Commissioners Court much time to come up with a workable plan since they apparently have not made any headway during the past year or so.

Terms of two commissioners, Tom Boyd of Precinct 2, and J. E. Touchstone of Precinct 4, expire next year. Boyd represents the largest precinct and Touchstone the smallest.

There is some question if any action taken by the County Court in its present unbalanced form would stand up in a court case so it is essential that they drop their present attitude of just hoping the problem will disappear and solve this problem before it is too late.

What seems to make the matter of redistricting hard is that while the commissioners are the public's representatives on the county level of government their real concern seems to be roads and ditches. This presents the problem of how do you keep both the people and the roads in balance.

We have always felt that our county form of government is long over due a major overhaul. We doubt that the commissioners should be full time public servants but should rather be like city councilmen who serve only part time without pay. People can be hired to keep roads and other such matters.

Hornets to Host Hamlin Friday In Scrimmage

The Pied Pipers will hold their second scrimmage Friday night with Aspermont. The teams will scrimmage at Aspermont starting at 8:00.

The Pipers ran into a tough Andrews team last Friday when they scrimmaged them at Lamesa. Coach Joe Youngblood said this week that while he was disappointed at first the boys looked much better on the field than he had expected. He said he plans to make a change in the defense this week that should help.

He also reported that the squad was now up to 46 boys with 10 seniors, 19 juniors, 10 sophomores and seven freshmen. Youngblood expected to complete his B team schedule at the district meeting Wednesday evening. The first B game will be here Thursday, Sept. 18, with Wylie.

He said that he expects the boys to have their hands full Friday night in their scrimmage with Aspermont as the Hornets have a number of boys back off of last year's strong team. They will have a big line averaging around 200 pounds and have several good backs returning.

This will be the final practice scrimmage for the Pipers and they will be opening their season next Friday at Rotan.

New Annual Park Fee Arrangement Scheduled by State

AUSTIN — The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, in a special meeting called last week, created a $5 annual entrance permit which will allow the holder to enter the park of his choice for one year.

The new permit does not replace the $12 annual park entrance permit which may be used to enter all parks except San Jose Mission, Eisenhower Birthplace, Varner-Hogg Plantation, Port Isabel Lighthouse, Old Fort Parker and Monument Hill where a per-person fee is charged.

Department authorities said the new $5 permit was designed primarily for the residents near a State park who would not normally use other State parks. Those who purchase the new $5 annual permit will still have to pay the regular entrance fee should they visit other State parks. The new permits will go on sale Sept. 1 in all State parks where entrance fees are charged, the five regional offices of the Department as well as in the Austin office.

The Emily Post Book of Etiquette For Young People by Elizabeth L. Post

In writing Etiquette for Young People, Mrs. Post had one idea in mind: to make the process of becoming an adult as easy and as much fun as possible. Style and grace, which everyone admires, in any activity are the products of knowledge and confidence. This book is designed to provide the specific information and the sense of confidence young people need for every social solution.

Mrs. Post proves that etiquette isn't a set of stuffy rules but a graceful and attractive way of life. Her advice is based on common sense and it's as up to date as the latest hemline.

The New York Times Complete Manual of Home Repair

by Bernard Gladstone

There are few householders who won't have to tackle at least some maintenance and repair tasks from time to time, now that there is no longer any odd-job man to call in when something needs fixing. Here at last is a book which gives clear, up-to-date instructions on how to take care of every problem that can conceivably come up in keeping a house or apartment in shipshape condition. The text is augmented by more than 300 photographs and line drawings and is slanted to the novice-do-it-yourselfer — male or female — but even the more experienced craftsman will find much that is new to him.

All the material in the book has been newly written; it is not a compilation of Bernard Gladstone's popular Sunday column in the New York Times but is based on his wide knowledge of the questions home craftsmen ask. He has been writing authoritatively on the subject of building, repairs, and home and apartment — maintenance for twenty years and has been a regular contributor to the Times for ten years.

What to Tell your Child About Sex

Prepared by the Child Study Association of America

This is a new, completely revised edition of a book that has long been regarded as a classic in its field — an honest, realistic approach to sex education for today's parents. The text is organized to anticipate the whole range of sex questions that youngsters ask at varying age levels.

The Child Study Association of America is a national agency, founded in 1888, which is devoted to strengthening the mental health of children and families. Its program emphasizes parent education and the training of professionals from various disciplines who work with parents and young people. Drawing upon all the behavioral sciences, the Association has developed and demonstrated educational techniques to help parents discover inner resources for dealing with daily problems before they reach a crisis in emotional disturbance and family disruption.

G. W. Drummonds Visit Son In Austin

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Drummond visited in Austin with their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff W. Drummond during the weekend.

Saturday evening Mrs. Drummond (Mary Nell) honored her husband with a buffet dinner at their home, 5516 Helen, celebrating his recent graduation from the University of Texas.

Among the guests were Congressman and Mrs. Jake Pickle of Washington, Major and Mrs. Charles Robb and daughter, Lucinda, of Alexandria, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Drummond of Hamlin, and the hostess' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jilson Hensley of Houston.

dysfunction, central nervous system impairment. For five years, Hannah's mother, Jane Hart, stood against a world that considered Hannah to be hopelessly retarded. Mrs. Hart went from doctor to doctor, but none offered much hope or even a well-organized design for treatment. However, she did not give up. With little to guide her, Mrs. Hart planned her daughter's therapy. The results were quite poor and extremely discouraging. Then Beverly Jones appeared in the role of Hannah's teacher. Miss Jones became the mother's counselor.

This book tells the story of how learning difficulties affect all children — both the handicapped and the normal — and how these difficulties can be avoided or at least lessened — and sometimes, completely eliminated.

The Insect Guide

by Ralph B. Swain, Ph.D.

The Insect Guide, lavishly illustrated and written in non-technical fashion tells how to recognize the larger, more easily remembered groups of insects — orders and families rather than individual species; how to distinguish adult and immature insects by their appearance and habits; how to find, capture, observe, and preserve different kinds of insects; and how better to appreciate insects by understanding their relationships with plants, man, and other animals.

Neinda Philosopher Wants to Hold A Music Festival On His Farm For The Proper Fee

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One is trying to get in on a good thing, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

I saw it on television and then later confirmed it by reading it in a newspaper, or was it the other way around? I really can't say because I can't remember what paper it was, but as I understand it 400,000 students, well they were young enough to be students, gathered on a farm in New York state the other day for three days of music and mud-baths.

Now I don't know anything about this, if students want to march on a farm, why not? It's about the only thing that hasn't been marched on. And if any of them are demanding the right to work on one, here's my tractor key.

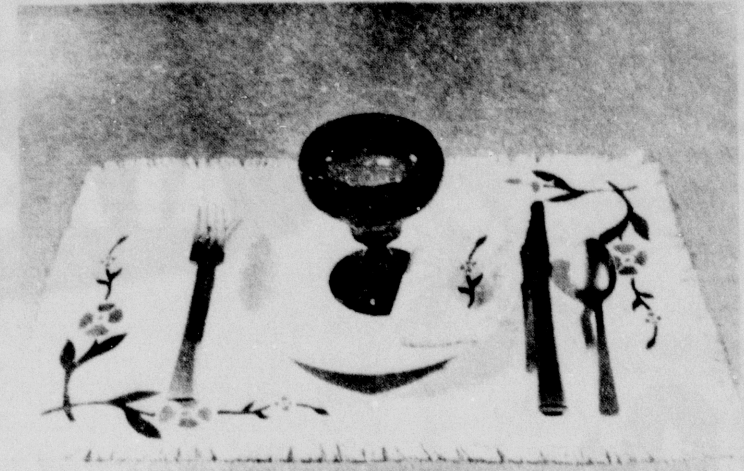

But one item in the newspaper account interested me. To get the news in depth, I'll take a newspaper every time. It said the farmer who owned the land where the cultural event took place leased it to the promoters for $50,000 for three days.

Finally, one farmer has reached parity, less what it took to clean up afterwards, and what I'd like to know is, haven't we got any kids around here interested in culture?

Now I've got this Johnson grass farm sitting out here and will be glad to lease it on the same terms that New York state farmer got, pro-

Be Your Own Decorator—

Stencil Cottons With Color

STENCILED PLACE MAT—One of the simplest of decorative arts is stenciling, a fascinating craft currently enjoying a surge of popularity. It's an old method of transferring designs to furniture and fabrics. A red and green flower motif has been stenciled on this yellow cotton place mat and napkin.

Whether you're the all-thumbs type or an experienced do-it-yourselfer, you'll find stenciling is an easy way to imprint colorful designs on fabric.

For one thing, it's a craft that demands little in the way of artistic talent. You can buy stencil designs or trace them from art books or magazines.

Use stenciled motifs on place mats, curtains, pillow covers, bedspreads, dresses, aprons, even towels and pillowcases. Items stenciled with permanent, washable textile colors can be machine-washed without colors fading.

Choose a firmly woven all-cotton fabric for best results. Wash first to remove any sizing in the fabric, and press.

For stenciling, you'll need textile paints, special stencil paper or any heavy waxed paper, a stencil knife or single-edge razor blade, and a short stubby stencil brush.

Paints, brush, and stencil paper are available at hobby shops or art stores. Heavy waxed butcher's paper or freezer paper also can be used.

For your first stencil, use a simple design—either a motif traced from an art book or a magazine picture. Flowers, fruit, sunbursts, leaves, animal shapes and birds are good choices.

To cut your own stencil, place waxed stencil paper on top of a design you have sketched or traced on white paper. Tape to hold securely in place. Hold up against a window pane so the outline of the sketched design will be visible through the stencil paper.

Trace design onto stencil paper with a hard pencil. Then cut out the design with a special stencil knife or single-edge razor blade.

If you plan to use more than one color in the design, cut separate stencils for each color area.

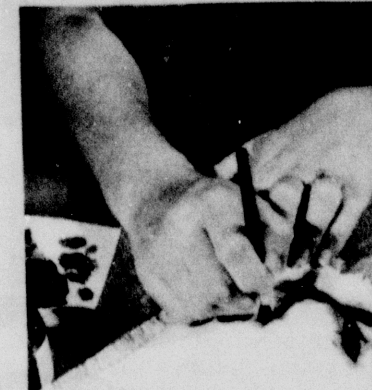

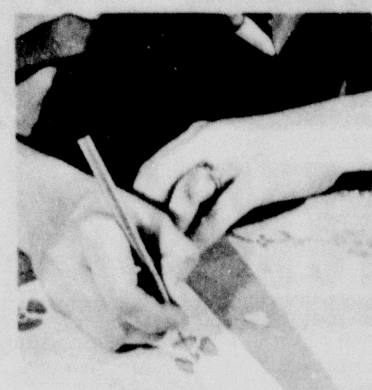

For instance, your design may be a flower with a long stem and leaves. You plan to paint the flower red, and the stem and leaves green. Therefore, cut one stencil for the flower and another for the stem and leaves.

Put fabric to be stenciled on a blotter or thick cardboard to take up any excess paint. Tack or tape the stencil in place on the fabric.

In using textile paints, follow manufacturer's directions. Stroke color on fabric with a stubby brush, working from the outer edge of the stencil cutout toward the center. Be sure you do not have too much paint on the brush. Wipe off excess paint on a paper before you start each brush stroke.

Let the first color dry before stenciling the next color area with a separate stencil cutout.

After you've decorated something simple—like place mats—you'll want to try your hand at a bigger project, like a bedspread or tablecloth. Stencil motifs over the entire spread, or just around the hem of a tablecloth. You'll find it's easy to be your own decorator when you take up stenciling.

APPLYING COLOR — Pin or tape the stencil in place on the fabric. Apply textile paint with a stubby stencil brush, stroking on color from the outer edges of the stencil cutout toward the center. By using permanent textile paint and cotton fabrics, the place mats will be washable.

The P.T.A. magazine drive will be held in October.

BEFORE—This aerial photo shows meandering of an old water channel in a mesquite infested area on Mrs. Joe Culbertson's farm. A close look will show where the water has destroyed terraces and gone across cropland destroying crops and leaving a silt problem.

AFTER -- Shaped grass waterway sprigged with Bermuda grass gives the impression of a super highway. It is a highway of unusual kind. It is used to carry water across cropland on the Culbertson farm, three and one-half miles east of Hamlin on the Stamford Highway. Cooperating with the California Creek Soil and Water Conservation District, Mrs. Culbertson received technical assistance from Harry Smith, agricultural engineer with the SCS. The two light strips down waterway are two small levees used to control small flows and prevent meandering. The grass forms a carpet for the water to pass over preventing erosion or silting.

Capital NEWS
By VERN SANFORD

Austin, — With the first special session of the Legislature a failure, Gov. Preston Smith called lawmakers back for a second try at writing a biennial budget and a balancing tax bill.

Midnight gavels fell August 26 with neither task accomplished after tax conference committees were unable to break a stubborn deadlock.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes blamed the first session impasse on House refusal to place beer and liquor under the sales tax. House Speaker Gus Mutscher said that was a "smokescreen" masking other reasons for the Senate's refusal to come to terms with the Representatives.

A Senate proposal to place food under a 2.5 per cent (reduced rate) sales tax was batted down unanimously (140-0) by the House. Thereafter, negotiations never budged beyond that point.

In calling for the second session, Governor Smith laid it on the line.

"We have been treated to a spectacle of petty quarreling, jealousies between houses, obstinate and self-serving positions, demagogic rhetoric, childish personalities and undue interference from the lobby," said the Governor. "I believe the people of Texas are sick and tired of it. I know I am."

Smith warned that every function of state government would be "paralyzed or thrown into a state of uncertainty and confusion" if the new session failed to come up with a certifiable revenue appropriation by September 1.

Legislature responded by bashing through emergency 60-day budget proposals which would operate the state government through October 31 while members sought to reconcile differences over long-range finances.

SAFETY PLAN RESUBMITTED — Texas failed to meet federal requirements with its traffic safety program, but a new plan has now been submitted.

Highway Safety Bureau of the U. S. Department of Transportation is reviewing the second effort.

Governor Smith was notified by Robert Brenner, acting director of the bureau, that the plan presented last December, before Smith took office, was incomplete.

Comments on the new plan are encouraging, says Smith, but final action is not expected until fall.

Meanwhile, said the governor, safety efforts are continuing through the Texas Education Agency, the State Highway Department, the Department of Public Safety and the Texas Department of Public Health.

CRIME RATE UP — Col. Wilson Speir, Department of Public Safety director, says Texas' crime rate for the first six months of 1969 was 7.7 per cent higher than the comparable period in 1968.

Major crimes increased in all categories except murder and homicide, where the rate declined 8.8 per cent.

Greatest increase was in robbery — up 31.2 per cent. Aggravated assaults increased 20.9 per cent, auto theft 14.8 per cent, burglary 9.7 per cent, rapes 7.2 per cent and thefts 3.9 per cent.

Urban areas experienced the greatest increase — 8.5 per cent. In rural areas, the average hike was less than one per cent. In cities over 100,000, the increase was almost nine per cent. In those from 50,000 to 100,000, increase was 7.1 per cent and in cities of 25,000 to 50,000, 18.8 per cent.

Crime clearance rates for the period was 27 per cent — the same as 1968. Clearance rate for murders was 84 per cent, for rapes 66 per cent and robbery 39 per cent.

DPS noted that statistics show a major crime every one and one-third minutes during January-June.

LATE HOURS PERMITS ISSUED — Texas Liquor Control Board now is issuing special late hours permits for taverns and private clubs in wet areas.

A new law, effective Sept. 1, provides that late-hours establishments can serve alcoholic beverages until 2 a. m. However, the statute is effective only in counties of 300,000 or more population (based on the 1960 census) and those where commissioners courts or city councils specifically approve.

State fee of $100 is collected from taverns selling wine and beer until the new curfew hour. Private clubs which want to stay open until 2 a. m. must pay $500 for a permit. State Liquor Control Board must issue the permit or license.

SADLER CENSURE REFUSED After lengthy debate, House of Representatives rejected a proposed resolution reprimanding Texas Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler for failing to cooperate with lawmakers.

Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi introduced the resolution (and resubmitted it to the second called session) charging that Sadler misled a House committee inquiring about his handling of salvage operations on ancient Spanish ships which sank off Padre Island more than 400 years ago.

Sadler, appearing before the House rules committee, admitted his original testimony on the issue was evasive and misleading. However, he claimed his tactics were necessary because of the delicate nature of the subject under inquiry.

ROAD PROGRAM APPROVED — State Highway Department has approved a $52 million highway safety and farm to market road improvement program for 1970.

Projects include construction work on 6,373 miles, to cost $51.2 million; and right of way and relocation assistance totaling $94.7 million.

Some $87,000 was reserved for later assignment.

About 55 per cent of the work will be on state and U. S.-numbered highways. Forty five per cent is assigned to Texas' farm to market road system.

Most of the work will serve to increase safety on the highways, and a large portion will go to reconstruction.

SECURITIES — Truman G. Holladay, deputy securities commissioner, says the State Securities Board has issued a cease and desist order against Pace International, Inc., of Austin (known as Paceco), prohibiting the sale of securities in Texas. He charged that the company had never been registered, as is required by law, with the board.

William King, securities commissioner, also announced that Wayne C. Davison has pleaded guilty to charges that he sold unregistered securities. King was sentenced in Harris County to three years in prison and given a probation sentence. One of the conditions of the probation is that Davison is to make full restitution to the investors.

SHORT SNORTS — Agriculture Department has given Rio Grande Valley cotton farmers in Cameron, Willacy and southern parts of Hidalgo and Starr counties until September 15 to clear fields of stalks under the pink bollworm control program.

Attorney General Martin says he will go to Washington to oppose that section of tax bill now being considered by a U. S. Senate committee that would remove the exempt status of municipal bonds.

Governor Smith named Austin banker John Simeon Burns to Board of Sale of Judgements Against Insolvency.

Band Master Collum requests the Herald to say to the public that there will be a band concert at the City Park in Hamlin, at 2 o'clock, Sunday afternoon. Furthermore he announces that this will be the last open air concert in the Park this season. The Park has a nice new band stand now and all who wish to hear some good music will not miss this last concert.

Over 200 bales of cotton have already been weighed in the cotton yard of Hamlin. The cotton season is NOW on and business is beginning to hum. Hamlin has her usual large number of cotton men, who give all that the market will allow. Cotton on Thursday was selling around $23.50 or better. Seed was selling for $29.00.

Have several hundred cords of good mesquite wood for sale, five and one half miles west of town. Price $2.25 on the ground-- Mrs. J. S. Terrell.

Pepsinated Calomel is better than the old-time sickening kind. It is gentle, imported English Calomel, combined with Pepsin and other, helpful ingredients. It is mild but certain, causing no harshness or unpleasantness and will absolutely relieve indigestion, biliousness, bad colds, constipation and sick headaches. And best of all it does it at once-- quickly and pleasantly. Take one small tablet at bed-time and you will get up hungry and feeling fine. Recommended by Waggoner Drug Co.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
(September 2, 1949)

Production of 8,000 bales of cotton in the immediate Hamlin area was predicted this week by managers of the two gins in Hamlin. An estimated 18,000 to 20,000 acres of land have been put into cotton this year near Hamlin, and the crops are said to be better than in any year for more than a Elmo Bellah, manager of the Producers Gin, said he thinks the crop is as good as any he's seen since coming to Hamlin more than 20 years ago.

W. W. Fletcher, manager of the Farmer's Cooperative Gin, said he thinks cotton in this area will average one third bale per acre, or better. "It is the best crop I've seen since I came to Hamlin," he said.

Work began Wednesday morning on installation of new street lights in Hamlin, Mac Brundage, manager of the West Texas Utilities Co., announced.

Brundage said 60 new lights will be installed, with 32 to be of the pendant type, similar to those now being used on Central Avenue. The pendant lamps will be installed on Lake Drive and on North Central Avenue.

Residential areas of Hamlin will be given the 28 other lights, which will be placed at various locations throughout the city.

Going away to

SCHOOL

At this time of the year, all over our nation, boys and girls are leaving home to attend the school of their choice. Many, for the first time in their lives, will be away from home and their home church. They should be encouraged to, immediately, seek a church nearby where they may continue to worship the Lord, and have the companionship of friends with similar outlooks on life and God.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Challenging the Parking Meter

Ed stopped his car at a parking meter, found no change in his pockets, and headed for the nearest store to get some. By the time he returned, a policeman was already writing out a ticket. Outraged, Ed took the matter to court. "It is true," he told the judge, "that our city ordinance says the coin must be put in 'immediately.' But that is ridiculous. Surely I am entitled to enough time to get change."

However, the court ordered him to pay the fine. The judge felt that, for the sake of administrative efficiency, the city could indeed insist on immediate payment—without leaving any loopholes at all.

There is something about parking meters that at times awakens the rebel in a rugged individualist. Nevertheless, in assorted courtroom confrontations between citizen and meter, the law has usually upheld the meter. As one judge put it:

"Some hardships must be undergone by those who enjoy the benefits of life in large communities."

Thus, in another case, a court found nothing wrong with parking meters that sold 12-minute intervals for the first hour—but only an undivided one-hour's worth for the second hour. If this was discrimination against second-hour users, as a citizen charged, it was held not to be unreasonable discrimination.

Another citizen, attacking from a different direction, refused to accept a parking ticket from a "meter maid." He argued that the city could not use anything less than a regular policeman for law enforcement. But again, the court decided a city had this much leeway in running its parking meter system.

Still, the law won't tolerate everything. For example, meters cannot ordinarily be used as a means of raising money for purposes outside the field of traffic control. Accordingly, a court decided that a city had no right to pay for harbor improvements out of parking meter income.

And another court added this warning:

"A municipality cannot turn parking meters into a business for profit. It cannot establish a commercial enterprise on the public easement."

THE EAGLES SPEAK...

It's that time again! When cries of joy and anger came from the McCaulley student body when school started Monday, Sept. 1. School started like always when we got our lecture from the faculty. Then it really started with a blast when the freshmen couldn't find their rooms and came to upper classmen for advice. We still don't know where all of those kids are. The Senior class elected officers Sept. 2. They are president, Domingo Benavides; vice president, Larry Smart; treasurer, Sue Smith; Reporter, Connie Dowell; secretary, Jo Ann Willis, and Sponsor, Mrs. Zo Encke. The officers for this year's Juniors are president, Duane

Young; vice president, Margaret Current; secretary, Vikki Griffen; treasurer, Lucy Perales; reporter, Shirley Gann, Sergeant-of-arms; Danny Smart; Chairman, Teddy Current; and sponsor, Miss Hines. The cheerleaders were also chosen. Head-cheerleader is Vikki Griffen, a junior. Other cheerleaders are Shirley Gann, a junior; Vickie Smart, a sophomore, and Prescilla Reed, a sophomore. We have our first scrimmage at Benjamin, Thursday Sept. 4. Pictures are also going to be taken Friday
